PROJECTS

Keytsy | (A full-stack Etsy clone utilizing React/Redux, Ruby on Rails, Webpack, Heroku, AWS, CSS)

live | github

- Created modals for User login/signup with React to improve the user's experience.
- Built a CRUD cycle for both the User's comments and cart items, allowing the UI/UX to be enhanced with dynamic actions.
- Customized AJAX calls to reduce time complexity for loading products.
- Enforced a more secure website by incorporating AWS for product images.

OkCroissant | (A full-stack (MERN) bread marketplace, created using: Mongoose, MongoDB, React/Redux, JavaScript, Webpack, SASS)

live | github

- Devised a custom axios call to MongoDB backend on the bread resource that optimized retrieval of a user's bread profile matches for a smooth user experience.
- Made a carousel with React that re-renders every time the user creates or edits their bread profile.
- Collaborated in constructing the users authentication backend to ensure a smooth UI/UX and error handling.

Shooting Range | (A First Person Shooter simulator to help gamers improve their aiming skills. Built using: JavaScript, CSS, HTML Canvas, Webpack)

live | github

- Formulated a function with Javascript that senses a User's mouse movements to increase performance by maximizing similarities to first person shooter games.
- Designed a modal utilizing HTML5 and CSS to expand performance for UI/UX.
- Implemented a shallow database that keeps the user's high score to boost the User experience.
